Old National to partner with St. Paul, Minn.-based Bremer Financial Corporation

2024-11-25

Bremer, with $16.2 billion in total assets, bolsters Old National's presence in the Twin Cities and expands its footprint into several other vibrant Midwestern markets

EVANSVILLE, Ind. and ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 25, 2024 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Old National Bancorp (NASDAQ: ONB) ("Old National") and Bremer Financial Corporation ("BFC" or "Bremer") jointly announced today that they entered into a definitive merger agreement. Founded in 1943, BFC is the bank holding company for Bremer Bank.

As of September 30, 2024, Bremer had $16.2 billion in total assets, $11.5 billion in total loans, and $13.2 billion in deposits. After the partnership is completed, Old National will become the third-largest bank in the Twin Cities. In addition, the partnership expands Old National's reach into several other vibrant markets throughout Minnesota, North Dakota and Wisconsin. Once combined, the new organization would have over $70 billion in assets (based on September 30, 2024 asset figures), a significantly larger footprint, and offer additional banking capabilities and enhanced resources to serve customers.

"This partnership represents an outstanding fit between two highly compatible, relationship- and community-focused banks," said Old National Chairman and CEO Jim Ryan. "When you look at what has made Bremer Bank a leading institution since 1943, what you quickly find are the same strategic priorities and cultural principles that have guided Old National's success for 190 years: a strong deposit franchise, a diversified loan portfolio accentuated by exceptional credit quality, and a passion for investing in and strengthening communities. I am incredibly confident that, through this partnership, Bremer and Old National will be even better together."

"For more than 80 years, we've been honored to carry out the legacy of our founder, Otto Bremer," said Jeanne Crain, President and CEO of Bremer. "When our majority shareholder, the Otto Bremer Trust, reaffirmed its interest in selling Bremer Bank, we appreciated the opportunity to identify a partner through a collaborative process to ensure the best possible outcome for our customers, employees, and our communities. With Old National, we have confidence we found a great fit.”

The Otto Bremer Trust
